

In the Shadow of Death

Lithographic Print on Paper (1985), 10 X 14 in., Courtesy Stephen K. McCall

Description:

This black and white lithograph is an image of a pilot scanning the terrain. He has banked his aircraft starboard, peers over the rail, and begins his search. He is sensitive enough to the dynamics of his aircraft to ignore the instrument panel allowing him to focus on the patterns and details below. This image was created to relate the unique “oneness” a man has with his machine and give reverence to our hero pilots.
